EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

Claim 1, line 14: "is" has been changed to --are--.

Claims 9-16 have been canceled.

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art does not teach a first layer and second layer within a plurality of holes of a base plate, wherein the first layer has a larger average pore diameter than the second layer to form a plurality of adsorptive regions and outside the adsorptive regions the first layer and second layer are present below the base plate and a signal absorbing layer below the first layer and second layer both inside and outside the adsorptive regions. Kato et al. (US 2003/0143523) teach a porous material within a plurality of adsorptive regions of a base plate and the material being below the base plate outside the adsorptive regions (figs. 6a and 6b), but fail to teach the material having a first and second layer, wherein the pore size is larger in the first layer than the second layer and a signal absorbing layer. Ogawa et al. (US 6,492,119) teach a base plate having a plurality of holes and in each of the holes, a first layer having a larger mean pore diameter than a second layer, but fail to teach a signal absorbing layer and the first layer and second layer being below the base plate outside of the adsorptive regions. Hess et al. (US 2002/0094533) teach a base plate having a plurality of holes filled with a porous adsorptive material, but fail to teach the adsorptive region having a first and second layer, a signal absorbing layer below the base plate and the porous material positioned below the base plate outside the adsorptive regions.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
